Seniors Win Spirit Week!!

Spirit Week was drastically changed for the 1984-85 school year. In an attempt to reduce traditional Spirit Week vandalism, the Administration decided to reduce the "week" to only three days, this decision was extremely unpopular with the majority of the students, especially the Seniors who felt, "cheated and deprived . . ." as one student put it. Another change occurred when the powers that be decided to bring the floats to Paly to be completed on Thursday, thus eliminating the traditional element of surprise at halftime of the Homecoming game, played on Friday. Most students felt that such drastic measures need not have been taken, but the Administration believed that things had gotten out of hand last year. Despite their lack of popularity, the changes did help to reduce vandalism during the three days.

Another significant event marking Spirit Week was the performance of the Sophomore class who, at the beginning of the competition on Wednesday held a commanding lead. However, during the rally on Wednesday, the Seniors narrowed the margin to a few points. And, after an impressive performance by Chris Fry in the baby bottle contest and the superiority of the costumes worn by the Senior class on Thursday, the Seniors were again in first place. Continuing their romp of the Sophomores, the class of '85 proceeded to sweep the competitions on Friday by winning the spoon relay, dress relay, ice cream feed, tug-of-war, and the yell contest. The clinching moment came when the floats emerged for their showing. The Senior float was obviously far above that of the class of '87 in design, craftsmanship, and originality. The clear winner, Gumby was awarded many more points than any of the other floats and helped to swing the Senior class to a well-deserved victory. The Freshmen finished a hard-earned second; the Juniors were an average third; and the Sophomores finished with only the Revenge of the Class of '85.

The "spirit squad" at Paly is divided into two groups, the cheerleader and the song (and dance) group, each with separate groups for varsity and junior varsity. The Little Vikes help run the rallies, lead class cheers, and generally promote school spirit. The song groups perform at rallies and other school functions whereas the cheerleaders lead cheers at rallies and sporting events. Rally is a class that meets during seventh period either outside or in the dance studio. During the class, synchronized routines are practiced and new ones are learned. To be a cheerleader at Paly requires dedication, patience, and energy.

SRVP

The Society to Reunite the Village People (SRVP), a non-profit organization, was established in September 1984 in order to:

- a) Get the Village People to reunite for a 1985 world tour,
- and b) Promote traditional values of hard work and discipline through manual labor and thereby help young men to lead happy and healthy lives.

Our organization is over 150 members strong, admitting both men and women, boys and girls. In the coming months, SRVP will offer a scholarship by raffle, garbage can flipping contests, and slam dancing on Brewer Field--activities essential to the well being of all young people.

Thank you,

Science

Paly has two years of required science. For those students who wish to advance in the scientific arts, Paly offers such courses as physics, chemistry and geology. Additionally the A.P. (advanced placement) at Paly is much more diverse than average high schools. The A.P. program offers students a chance to earn college credits for courses taken here. Over all the Paly science department remains above average in excellence despite forced cutbacks.

PE

The Physical Education department at Paly offers a wide spectrum of activities. Even though budget cuts have forced the P.E. department to reduce the number of classes offered, the selection still remains more diversified than at most other high schools. Some of the activities include gymnastics, soccer, basketball, golf, and field hockey.

The contract P.E. program also adds to the range of classes offered by allowing the student to present his or her contract for an individual or team sport to Judith Stark. The student must have a minimum of nine hours per week, and an instructional supervisor. This year the P.E. department conducted intramurals, which, during lunchtime and after school, pitted students against the faculty of Paly. The games were designed to improve student to faculty relations.

Friendship Project

The friendship project is set up to help ninth graders feel welcome and to quickly feel a part of the Paly community. Over 125 Paly juniors and seniors are each paired with two freshmen buddies for the entire year. The upperclassmen meet with their ninth graders and provide support and answer questions about school classes, activities, and student life. The program breaks down the traditional barriers between different class levels and provides an experience that is both fun and rewarding. The Peer Counseling program organizes and supervises the program.

Special Friendship Club

The Peer Counseling Special Friendship Club brings together the students in the Learning Handicapped Special Day Class with 40 main-stream students to provide an important opportunity for learning an friendship between the groups on campus. The main-stream students work as tutors or are paired with a special friend in the class. The friends meet for lunch and other social activities. These activities range from pizza parties to picnics and skiing. The club is sponsored by Jim Toole and Special Education teacher Gerry Larvey.

Yearbook

Useful Vocabulary For Graduating Seniors

Freshman- That long-ago grade in a senior's vocabulary only because he must be one again next year.

Sophomore- This word is not in a senior's vocabulary. Junior- A member of a lesser grade who, although inferior, feels himself equal to a senior; any junior who feels as such is sadly mistaken.

Senior- A student belonging to the twelfth and consummate grade; the grade to which all others are compared, as in: "When I'm a Senior," "You should try to behave like the Seniors," or "Seniors are so lucky!"

Second Semester- The four months during which a senior does not feel the need to study, to do homework, or do anything else related to school except to sit in the sun.

Graduation- A ceremony at the end of the second semester (see above) that ends twelve years of school and frees the senior from any further scholastic obligations.

Beach- The place to which seniors escape, most often during the second semester (see above); often the cause of excessive absences.

April- The month during which most seniors receive word regarding final acceptance to a college or university; often the only cause of stress to a senior during the second semester (see above).

Financial Aid- Financial assistance nearly always denied to Paly students; notice of denial is obtained by filling out the only form rumored to rival an income tax form in complexity and redundancy.

Beverage- Any liquid consumed to quench thirst; usually applied to references of alcohol at parties given by parents of seniors.

Dude- A word of unknown origin used to refer to a person of either gender; often slips into otherwise intelligent conversation when the speaker becomes relaxed or tired.

Pound- A verb describing the fastest means of quaffing a beverage (see above).

Grad Night- the biggest party of a senior's high school career, the object being to outsmart the chaperones; the object of all the class fundraisers since Freshman year.

Government- A totally useless class taken, most often in the second semester, for the sole purpose of satisfying the requirement.

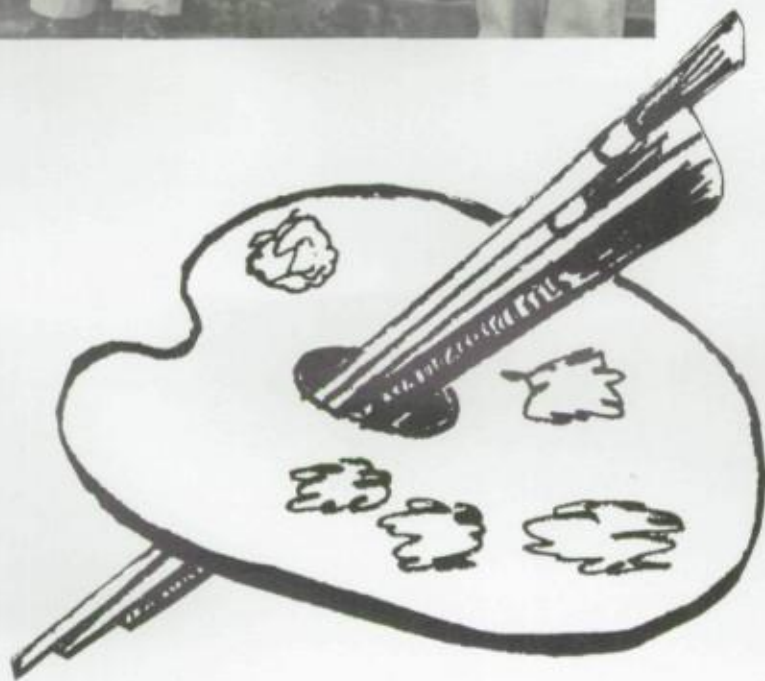

Rager- A superlative adjective used to describe the status of a function, as in: "The party was okay," "The party was rowdy," or, "It was a rager!!"

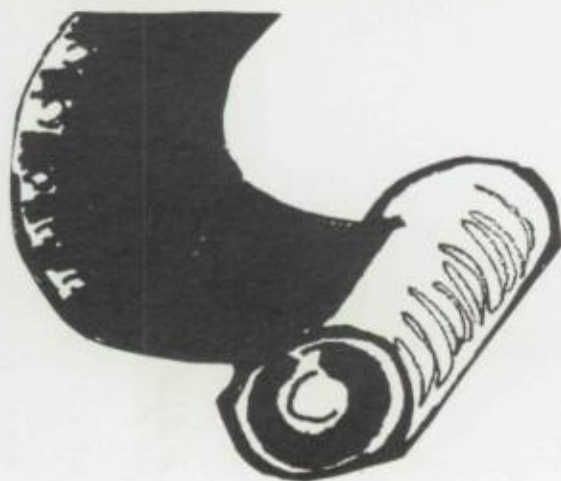

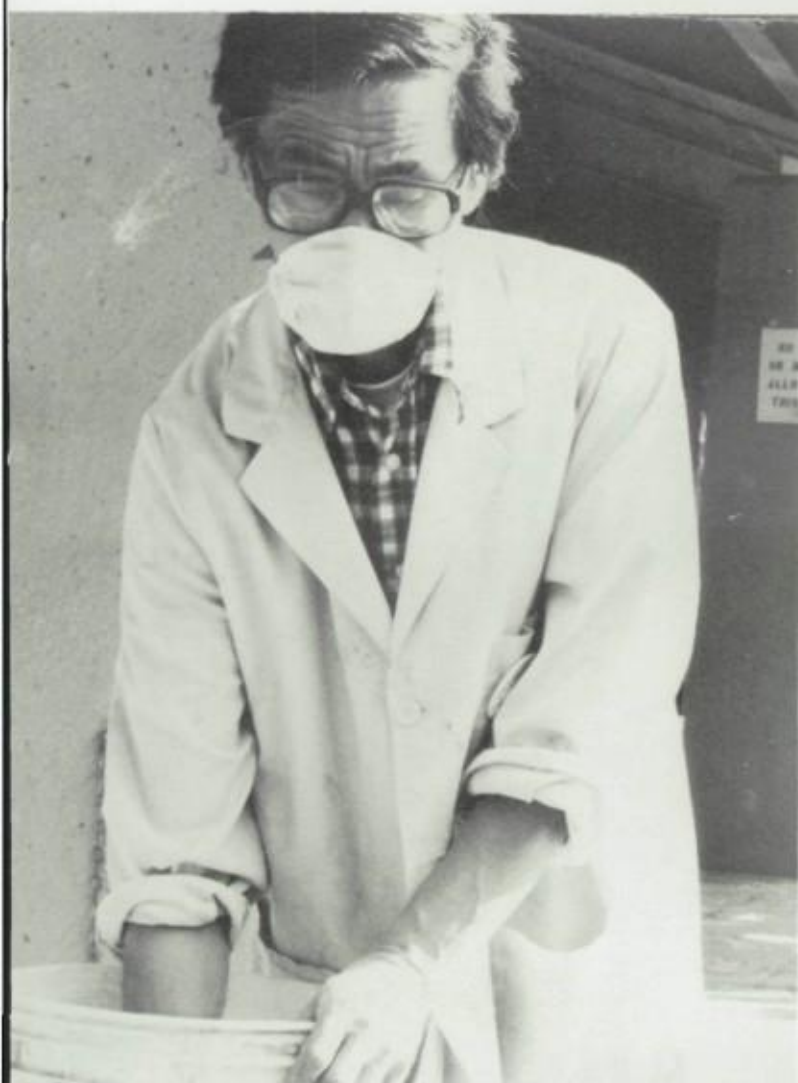

Prep Periods- A time used by seniors for improving their tan; by a recent amendment to the district constitution, each senior is now guaranteed the right to at least two prep periods.

Senioritis- A disease that affects seniors in the second semester; characterized by a lack of energy, and, indeed, a sheer inability to do anything related to school.

Band

Chorus

Dave Adams

Mr. Adams is the new band instructor at Paly. The Marching Band, under his direction, has had a very successful year taking second place at the Pacific Grove Marching Band Festival, in November. The Band has two more festivals planned this year, one to Tracy, and one to Los Angeles where they will perform at Disneyland.

Doug Hornbeck

Mr. Hornbeck teaches the Paly Jazz Band. The Jazz Band has entertained many people this year with their style. The Jazz Band will also perform at the Marching Band Fundraiser this March.

Kathlyn Fujikawa

Kathlyn Fujikawa is the Chorus instructor. This group of talented vocalists will perform several times this year and will also participate in some drama productions. Choir, a specialized group of the Chorus, will make several trips to perform outside of school.

The Contract Learning Program (District Alternative Program, 1971-85)

The Contract Learning Program is a district elective program in English, Social Studies and P.E. which serves about sixty students, most of whom are juniors and Seniors. Working one to one with students, the program's staff - Kurt Johnson and Hedi Schiessler - help students to successfully complete learning contracts which cover the established course curriculum, improve basic skills and explore areas of individual interest. Located upstairs in the Tower Building, the program also encourages students to develop important skills of self-discipline and time management in cooperative and supportive atmosphere. First started with student initiative fourteen years ago, the program continues to be a place where students can experience responsibility and enthusiasm for learning and personal growth.

Student Government

The purpose of Student Government is to communicate to our administrators, so that we, as a group, can accomplish projects that center around the Paly campus. The club meets once a week to discuss issues brought up by students and faculty. Student Government not only discusses issues, but is the sponsor of many school activities. Bill Reller was the president of the student body for both semesters. His cabinet members consisted of Liz Smith as secretary and Marland Chancellor as vice president. The class presidents were Steve Apfelberg and Siwa Msangi for the freshman class, Cathy Yep and Gene Buttrill for the sophomore class, Libby McCaul and David Van for the junior class, and Reed Maltzman and Wendy Ewing for the senior class. The cabinet also includes the presidents of the social committee, the budget committee, and the student relations committee.

Academic Decathlon

This year the Paly High School Academic Decathlon team consisted of: Jim Armstrong, Dan Bernstein, Alexander Greenwood, Kristine Jacobsen, Jonathan Levy, Doug Lumish, Bob McCarty, Audrey Nutik, I-Heng Wang, Bruce Chadwick, Tim Fong, Christy Hermann, David Keaton, Jan Mueller-Vollmer, An-Thu Nguen, Michael Yen, and Jim Nielbauer. If Paly had won, some of these latter eight students might have competed at the state level. This year, Paly came in second after Gunn High School, with Gunn earning 43,557 points, and Paly earning 43,233 points. Paly received four gold, four silver, and six bronze medals for their hard work. The team all studied together and the choices for the team were made from those thought to be most ready in November. Special thanks to coaches John Thompson and Shalah Wolfsohn.

The 1984-85 Frosh/Soph Paly basketball team finished with an impressive season. The cagers clinched first place in the S.C.V.A.L. league after beating Gunn. Their success was largely due to new comers Danny Flores, Andre Watkins, and Anthony Watkins, and the experience of the returning players; Corey Brand, Mike Novotny, Derek Uyeda, and Chris Zaharias. This team has continued the tradition of the Paly Frosh/Soph dominance in the S.C.V.A.L. league.

Varsity Football

Below: First year coach Scott Laurence Right: Dave Kurtzman terrorizes the quarterback.

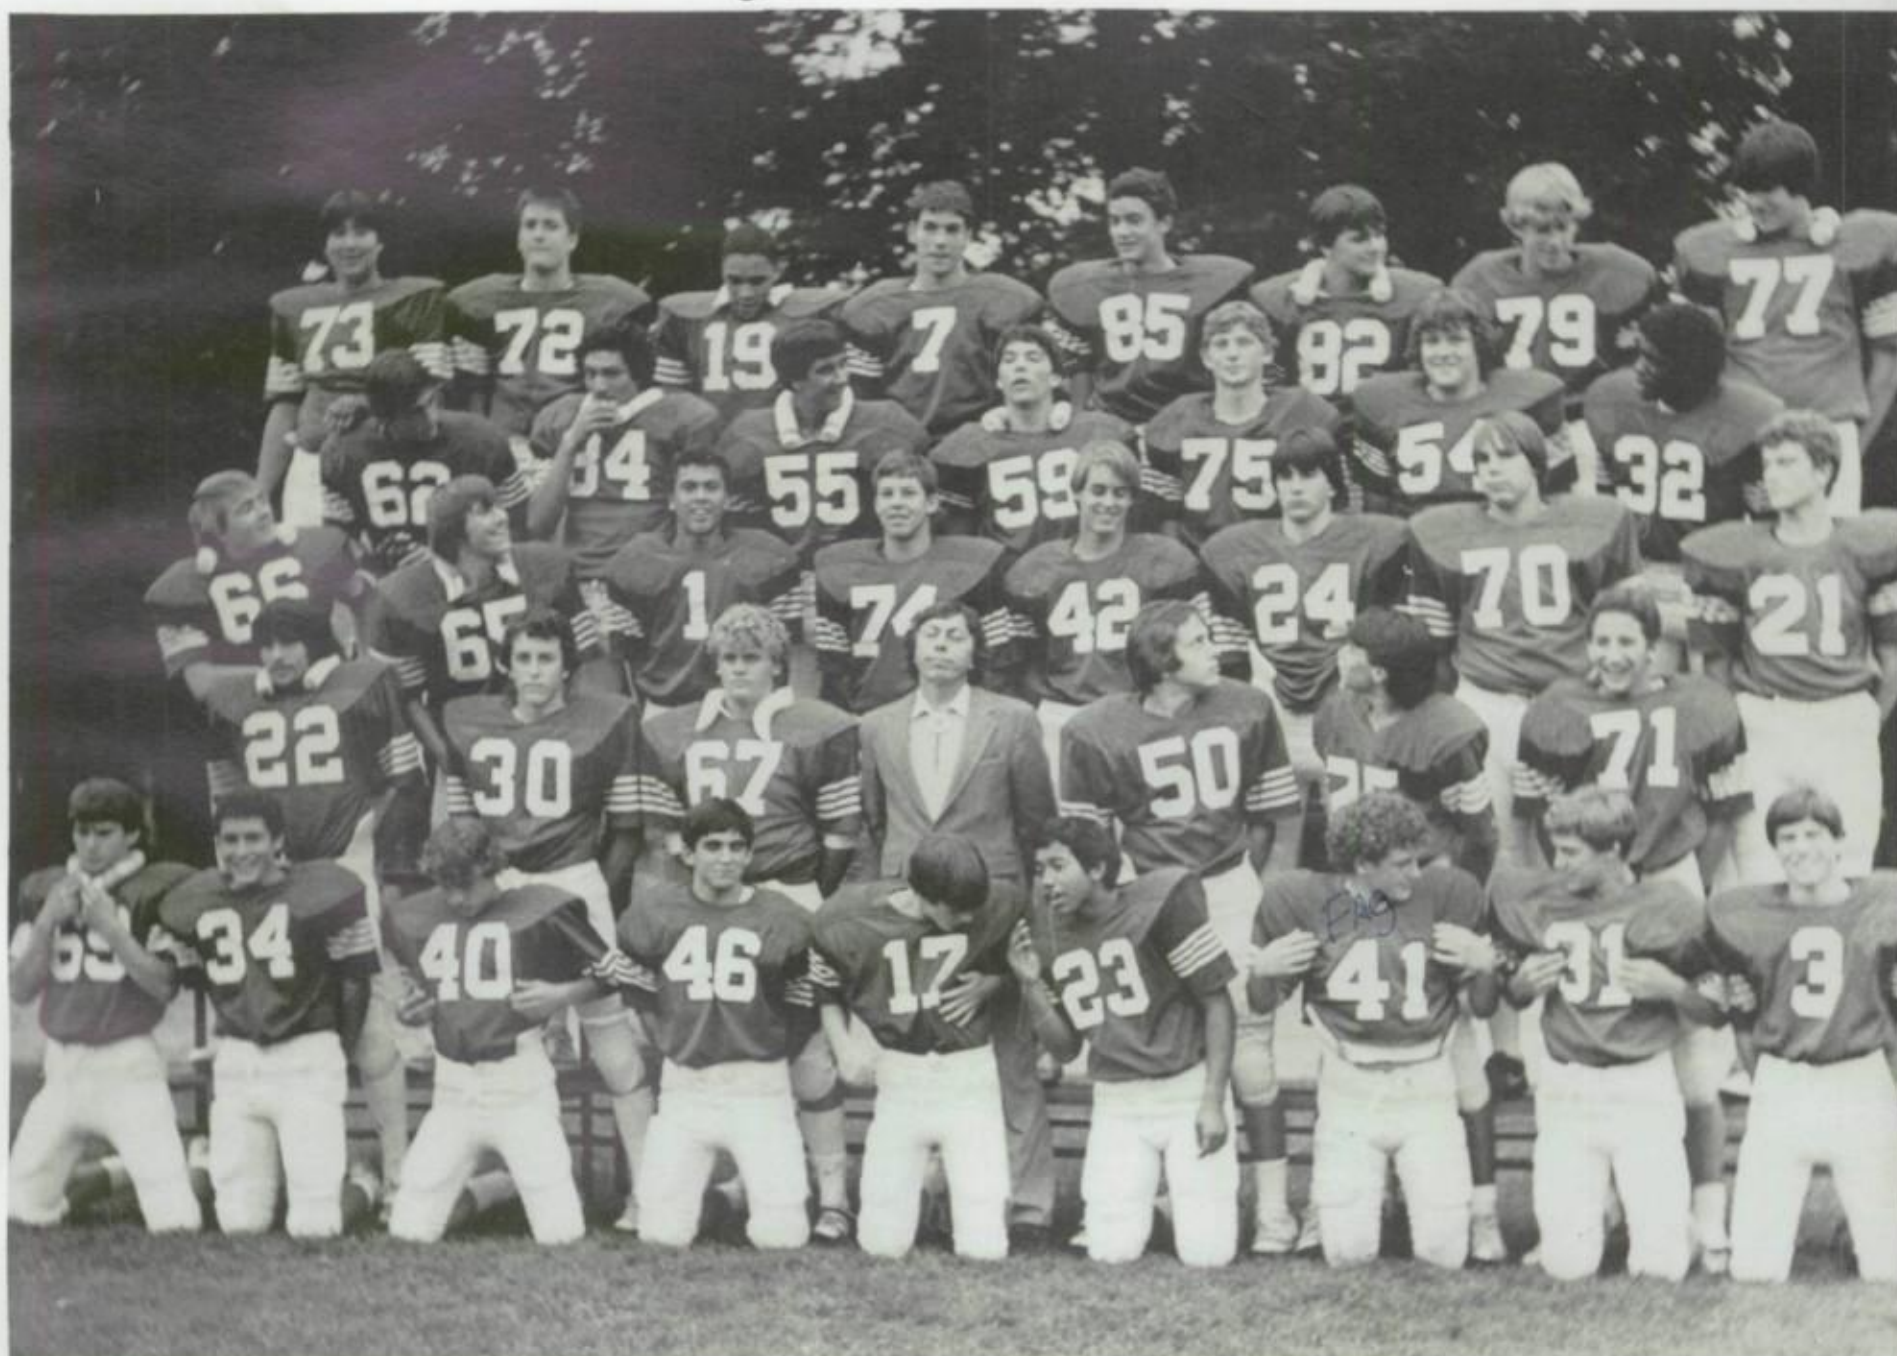

The Varsity football team had a disappointing season this year finishing 1-5 in the league and 1-9 overall. The Vikings faced a very tough schedule with opponents like Wilcox, and number one ranked Los Gatos. The Vikings lost several close games against teams such as Milpitas, Westmont, and Sequioa. The Vikings are in a rebuilding stage, as first year coach Scott Laurence took over the team after an 0-9 season last year. The Vikes main problem was injuries and lack of depth in critical positions.

Edged Out!

Paly's J/V improved enormously over last seasons record of 2-4. Under a new coaching staff, the "junior vikies" rallied to a 4-1-1 league record. Paly was barely edged out by a tough Santa Clara team, for first place in the league.

Girls Varsity Soccer

Paly's Varsity girls' soccer team finished a strong second in the S.C.V.A.L. this year with league record of 9-1-2. They also captured a 1st place finish in the 16 team Christmas Tournament featuring top CCS teams. The Vikings played the beginning of the season with intensity and determination, apparent in their opening league game against Gunn which resulted in a scoreless tie. Despite a scoring rut in mid-season play, the second of the season produced definitive victories against Wilcox, Los Altos, and Mt. View. The team was successful in securing a CCS playoff berth as a result of their 7-0 slaughter of Los Altos.

Paly's 1st team All League players included Senior goalie Kendra Short, Junior halfback Mary Karen Olson, sophomore forward Maria Murnane, and Sophomore halfback Kristi Osborne. Second team players were fullbacks Denise Novotny and Tammy Blakely.

Girls JV Soccer

MVP Offense: Janina Duraj MVP Defense: Liz Edelstein Most Dedicated: Caitlin Nerrie Captains: Marla Aufmuth and Jeanina Mastre

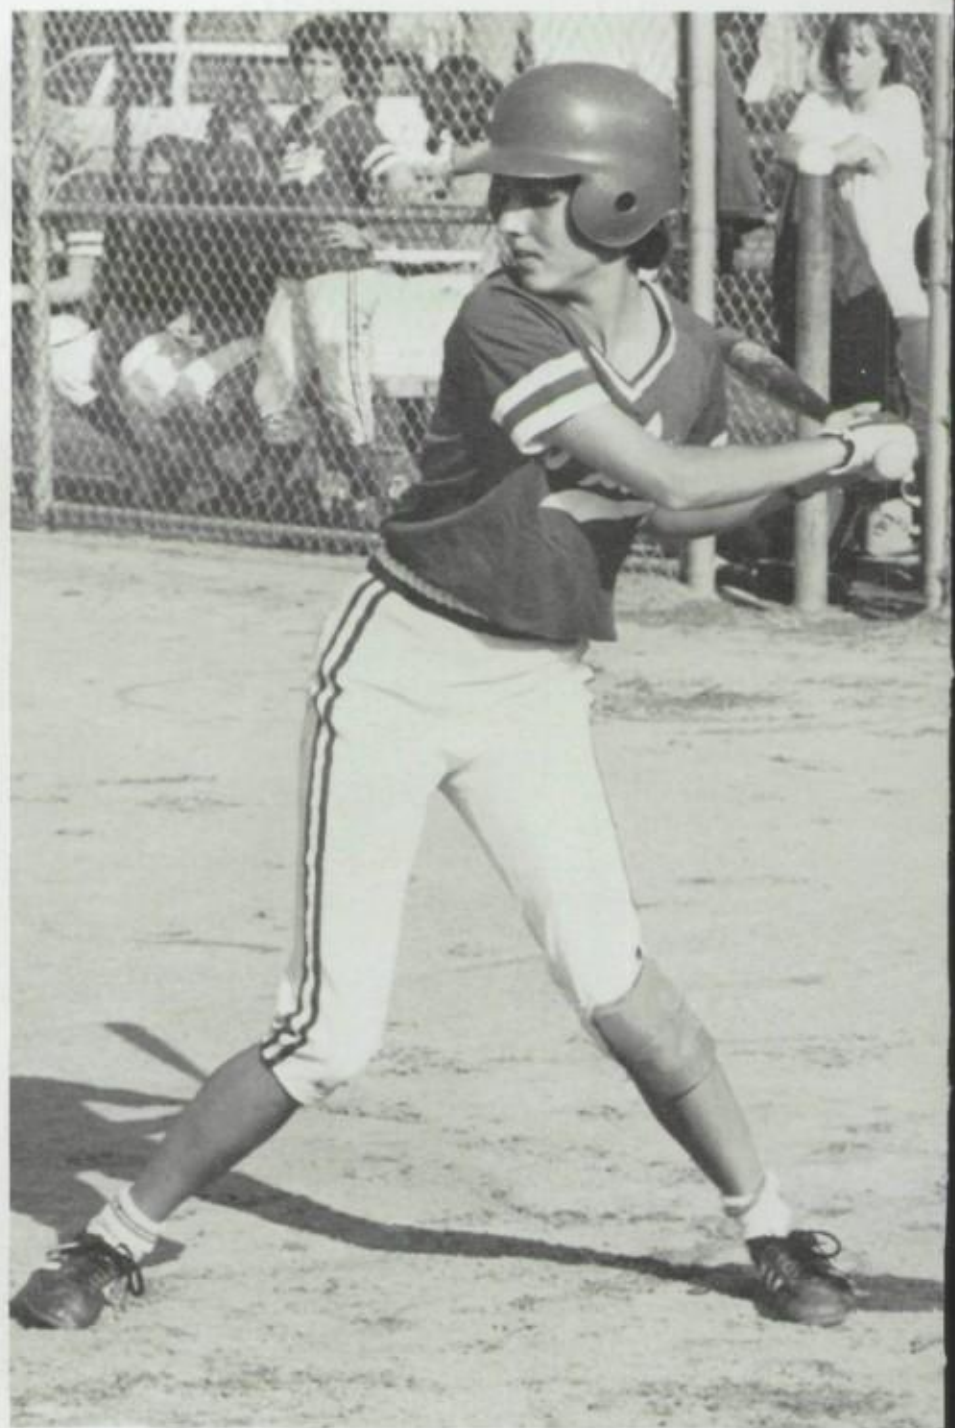

The Palo Alto High School girl's JV soccer team enjoyed a successful season as SCVAL champions. With the exception of a 2-2 tie to crosstown rival Gunn High School, the team remained undefeated. Led by standouts, dropback half Janina Duraj, center half Marla Aufmuth, center forward Monica Murane, and goalie Jeanine Mastre, Palo Alto easily rolled over its opponents. Continuing the strong play begun last year by the freshman the team grew and improved together as a group. With a strong base of such freshman as Elizabeth Edelstein and Susan Nelson next year's team should follow in the tradition of Paly's dominance.

Coaches: John Williams (head), Richard Takemoto, Ed Hart (diving). Team Parents: Betsy Laster and Margo Zaharias.

Girl's Tennis

The girls' tennis team: Varsity: Elizabeth Friedman, Meg Heubach, Karen Johansen, Debbie Leland, Katie McBride, Paige Meredith, Portia Monberg, Mary Karen Olson, Victoria White, Nicole Winchester, Junior varsity: Elizabeth Baldwin, Sally Barry, Mihee Choi, Catherine Cohen, Jenny Crawford, Chrissy Davis, Erika Deutschlander, Edie Dudley, Hilary Foss, Lisa Lougee, Libby McCaul, Marion McKee, Didi Meltzer, Benita Nall, Kara Nyser, Heather Ross, Dalia Weinstein, Jenny Yuen

This year's girl's tennis team surprisingly garnered an impressive third place finish in the S.C.V.A.L., losing only two matches. Despite losing four strong varsity players from last year, the young girls impressed other teams with their great talent. Paly's doubles were especially strong, usually capturing three wins to help secure the match for the Vikings. The top singles players, Debbie Leland, Portia Monberg, and Mary Karen Olson played well against difficult opponents. Coach Vivien Moyer has high hopes and expectation for the 1985 season.

This years Varsity Volleyball team was unsuccessful. The team effort was there, but the team definately regressed since last year. There record shows this: (overall) wins 3 and losses 9. In league paly's record was 1 win and 5 loses. Being in a competitive league attributed to paly's dissappointing season. Paly's personal best fell far short of their preseason expectations. The captians Jennifer Ekstrand, and Robin Young, lead the team with consistant support. Coach Judith Stark-Modlin expected this season to be a rebuilding year, and it was.

Water Polo

Having won their league, this was the first time since 1968 that Palo Alto's Water Polo team has done so well. The team coached by Harlan Harkness, worked to reach their preseason goal of winning the league. Their CCS goal however was not met, as the team reached only the second round of the tournament. The team had individual strength, such as SCVAL MVP Jay Backstrand. Other strong players include the sly Chris Parr and the dexterous Henry Halliday. All league awards go to Halliday, Parr, Mike Novotny, and the leagues MVP Jay Backstrand. Honorable mention went to Junior Ian Bricken.

nite is the final meeting concerning fifty-minute periods. you never go to another board meeting this is the one to at. All class levels are urged to attend. By simply owing up at the meeting, we may be able to pressure the ard into changing the schedule. We already have a few sur- ises in store for them. Mr. Shroyer, Mr. Condon, and Mrs. yer are all planning to speak against the fifty minute periods e meeting is at 25 Churchill. Our agenda item doesn't come till 8:15 so there is no need to show up before that.

Churchill at 8:15 be there or be content with a short brunch!

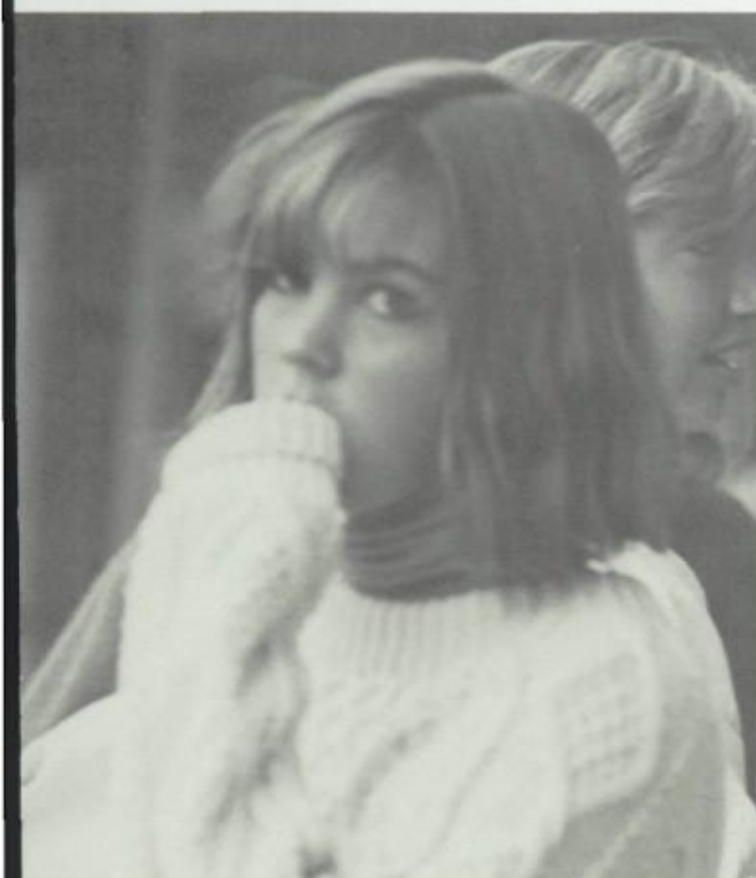

Clockwise from upper left: Chris Parr warms up for a water polo match. Whoop-ee! We only lost by one touchdown. A.J. North lets his hair down. Sophisticates Libby McCaul and Didi Meltzer watch in despair as the Junior class comes in third during spirit week. Jeff McDowell enjoys a Paly football game.

SENIOR CLASS OF 1985

It was both the best and worst of times, but we survived somehow. Thanks everybody, especially, Mom, Monte, Eric - it's been a blast. Turn out the lights, the party's over!

an artist need not create to be:
he must feel, believe & know.
He may create to express, but true artfulness is within & without.
Beneat a dulled person as so many.
artless, unthinking, but usually, happy.
Do not cast aside feelings

CAUTION: FLAMMABLE

Pat is happy to leave Pally.
Pat is an adj. describing the all out invasion of Pittsburgh
by New England lead by Biff and Muff. "is" is a conj. along with leave joining the three preds.
of this incredibly difficult sentence. Happy is a noun with stands for David Lee Roth in Swahili. to is an interjection meaning "Oh! Pigeonshit!"
And last, but not least, Pally is a verb meaning "trouble".
It modifies the chance that all the Pigs tails in Iowa will grow straight causing the Colorado River to flow making dehydrating all of Southern CA.
It's great to learn the Basics!

I dedicate this space to the teachers who inspired me and to my mother who taught me to be joyful about small

Gerry Meyer

I dedicate this closing chapter to Miss Pitt who noticed me and encouraged me to get an education and to my mother who taught me on a diet of beans prepared in 34 different and delicious ways.
TO ENJOY LIFE

In 1950 when I was hired from Stanford
we had Palo Alto
High School, Jordan
Junior High, and 9
elementary schools.
As the district grew I went from Van Auken, to Wilbur, to Cubberley, and finally to Paly.
Each school was special and each year seemed better than the year before.

31 of my 33 years
of teaching math were spent right here at Paly.
In the past I have coached fresh-dept foot ball and basket ball. My plans for the future?
Do anything that comes to mind
on a given day.

Here's the first thing you should look for...
when you look into orthodontics.

Here's why.

Those three circles, two irregular, one perfect, form the symbol of the American Association of Orthodontists. What they're saying and what they stand for is highly relevant to what you should expect in regard to treatment and who you should look toward to do it.

Look for the picture of health.

Certainly, orthodontics should give you a picture smile and, just as important, make you the picture of oral health.

That's why the symbol moves from irregular forms to a perfectly balanced circle. Balance between teeth and jaws is what the skills of the orthodontist achieve. This facial harmony—more than just moving crooked teeth—helps see to it that your bite, once improved, stays healthy.

Look for the picture
of skill.

Wherever you may see it, as you seek treatment, the symbol of the American Association of Orthodontists assures you that you're seeing a specialist. He or she will have had at least two additional continuous years of advanced study in orthodontics after receiving a dental degree. And that study was conducted in a program accredited by the American Dental Association.

Because there are more than 7,500 practicing orthodontists in the Association,

you should find us well represented in your area.

Start your look now.

We'd like to give you more information on orthodontics in general and on what you should expect from treatment. Just mail the coupon. We'll send you information to help you understand even better why you should look for our symbol when you look into orthodontics.

1984 OUTLOOK
Real Estate Newsletter
Spring 1984

The second quarter of 1983 found the Mid-Peninsula with a large surplus of used housing inventory. Increased demand for housing throughout the year put pressure on prices as the supply dwindled. For the first time since the housing market peak of 1980, we experienced many multiple purchase offers on new listings.

Now inventory is back to more normal levels (i.e. we have more buyers than sellers). Housing prices have returned to their peak of 1980 levels and all indicators point to an upswing in appreciation in excess of the inflation factor.

That is not to say that we are anticipating the monumental price jumps of the late '70s. This is a new game. The rules have changed. Today, housing is being purchased for shelter. In order to qualify for the Internal Revenue Code 1034 exchange of a primary residence, the holding period has been increased to a minimum of 24 months. The speculators have gone elsewhere—a healthy housing area. We are, however, still faced with a housing unit shortage with demand exceeding supply. The upward pressure on prices will continue as long as that imbalance remains.

The experts disagree on the direction interest rates will take in 1984 as the economic recovery continues to heat up. Our expectation is that there may be an upward pressure on interest rates, but, since it is an election year, they will remain palatable to our buyers. The variety of loan packages available in today's market place offers sufficient flexibility for buyer qualification. And buyers who can qualify tend to buy. When you consider rental prices vis-a-vis the tax advantages of owning your own home, the numbers speak for themselves.

We look forward to a brisk, healthy housing market on the Peninsula throughout 1984!

Packaging is the Key
Thinking of selling your home? Obviously, your goal is to get the job done as quickly as possible at the maximum price. The first step is to put on your "everyman" home through the eyes of a potential buyer. A home is a very personal statement, a reflection of the person(s) who made the house a home. Sometimes a little depersonalization is in order. Honorable scars are o.k. on antique furniture. But on the door jams they are simply deferred maintenance. You may love Cousin Kate's brilliant mural on the living room wall. But will it send your potential buyers back to their cars? Is your garage large but filled with boxes and furniture your college kids will not part with? Mini storage will hold their treasures and your garage will look as spacious as it is. Remember how happy your children were when you allowed each of them to choose their favorite colors for their bedroom carpets and walls? But instead of smiling at the individual personality reflected in each room, your potential buyer may see it as simply jarring.

Next step is to decide which improvements will add the greatest appeal to motivate a buyer to maximize the price he is willing to pay. Improvements which generally bring the greatest return are painting, landscaping, repairing roofs, gutters and driveways. First impressions are lasting impressions. If the exterior of your home has good "curb appeal" and the interior is bright and cheerful with a good "flow," a favorable impression will be created.

Big ticket improvements such as the addition of a pool and/or spa are best avoided since the return on monies expended is most often

We know where real estate is going, because we know where it's been.

Cornish & Carey has played an integral role in the growth of the San Francisco Peninsula for some 50 years. Now, we're the largest real estate company here.

Our Commercial Division handles sales and leasing of commercial and investment property in the fastest-growing areas of the country, Silicon Valley and the Bay area.

Cornish & Carey's Residential Division has been growing, and we've even added a special division to take care of Relocation Services for our corporate clients moving into or out of the Bay area.

Cornish & Carey Mortgage was established in 1983 as a separate division of the Company. Since then, we've also set up separate divisions for Property Management and Investments. Our new Land Division helps high tech companies and developers find sites for expansion outside the Bay area.

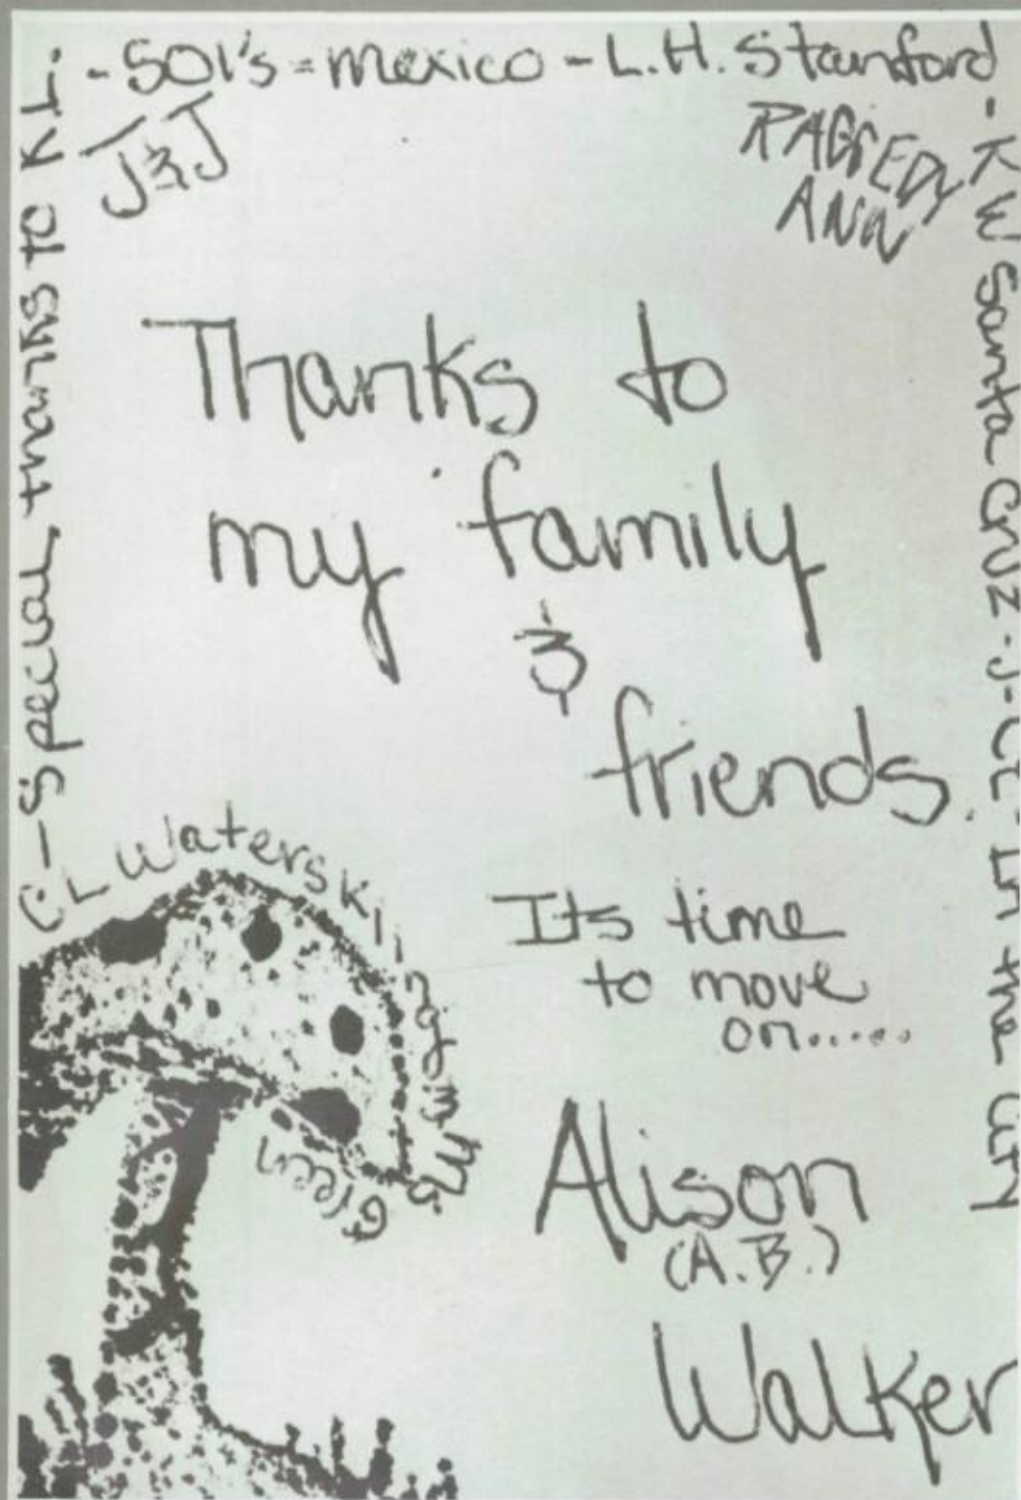

After all these years, Cornish & Carey is moving into exciting new areas of real estate growth. Because to know where real estate is going, you have to know where it's been.

In Memory Of Alison Walker

This final page is dedicated to the memory of Alison Walker. Her tragic death in early January came as a sudden shock and brought sorrow to all who knew her.

The final page of a yearbook is generally devoted to summing up the year, to finalizing unfinished business, and to saying goodbye. By dedicating this page to her memory, the editors hope to allow those who were denied a chance to say goodbye, the opportunity to do so. As her life was tragically cut short, we also hope that this page will serve as a substitute, no matter how poor, for a gradual, natural ending to her life. Finally, we hope that this page will serve as a reminder. Let it remind us of friendship, love, and understanding.

Alison's smile, wit, and indeed her whole presence will be sorely missed. We, the editors and staff of the yearbook, would like to express sympathy to her family, friends, and all those fortunate enough to have known her.

It's time to move on...

AL - cool breeze

Had to take you to the Canyon but I'm sure you'll get your revenge... maybe. Dude this year was very stoney but that's nothing compared to this summer he^{he} ha.

AL -

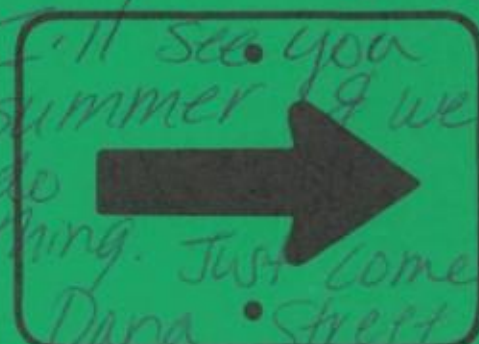

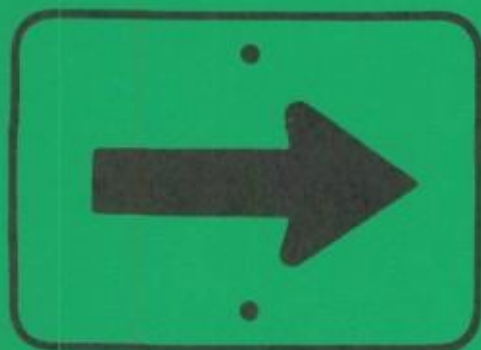

Alan,

Rad year. You're mister party. That low class was mellow to eat in. Have a killer summer. I know you'll do some serious partying

Alan

What's sup? 2nd per.
prep was cool, just enough time in between classes to take a knap,
or to have an earthquake drill & have the librarian make everyone take it seriously & duck under the studying koralis. we haven't done much this year but hope fully I'll see you this summer & we can do something. Just come down Dana Street

& I'll probably be out in front. Ingrid

Hi Baby,

What Happened Al. This year was killer.
You're going to be a big Junior next year and you might, do some breaking in football.
I'm sure we'll party alot this summer.
We'll be at the beach alot. I'll teach you how to We'll don't with me.
When you're party.

Allen,

What's up. Biology was so hilarious. I don't think you ever came not fucked up well that's life, huh. I know I don't have to tell you, that we'll probably be seeing each other over the summer.

Summer School +
parties. Don't forget to call me lots (321-4356)
We can go to the BEACH!!
That could be happening you know
it!! Life life! PARTY-

Love Ya
Catharine

Allen ~ Biology? That was one scary thought.
Did you ever go in that class straight?
(I think not. That's cool, you probably did better than
I did 😊) Next year,
I'm psyched to deal with doing stuff next year. Give me a call this summer. 326-9321
